

Speaking Topics Include:

- Coaching Employees for Maximum Productivity
- Identify and Retain Top Performers
- The Boldness Factor
- Collaboration and High Performing Teams
- The Human Side of Performance Management
- Presenting Highly Complex Information to Non-Technical Audiences
- Intelligence vs. Emotional Intelligence

Amy Hedin is a top level executive coach, a business consultant, facilitator, and dynamic speaker, but is best described as a catalyst for her clients' success. Whether she is working with an individual executive, a team, department, or an entire company, she brings intelligence, creativity, and clarity to helping her clients achieve their goals. Amy does her homework and comes prepared. She does not rely on a canned approach. Prior to starting HumanPoint, she was a consultant and trainer for one of the world's largest and most recognized training organizations and was ranked as one of the top consultants and trainers in the world. Amy speaks at key industry conferences around the nation. She has worked with organizations in technology, construction, biotech, retail, manufacturing and hospitality, as well as military branches to help improve the performance of their workforce and achieve superior results. Amy's clients describe her as dynamic, engaging, genuine, and insightful. She lives in and travels from Bellevue, Washington.

There Is No Maximum To Human Potential

11900 NE 1st Street, Suite 300
Bellevue, WA 98005
425.637.3018 office
info@human-point.com
www.human-point.com

CUSTOMER QUOTES

She was fantastic—depth of knowledge surpasses any facilitator/instructor that I have ever trained with before. The whole session was a totally relaxed learning experience and a joy to be a part of. She drew out things that needed to be drawn out with questions that didn't make anyone feel stupid or picked on. She knew the right questions to ask.

-Managers, UK Division of Global Security Operation

It was a wonderful experience. I was very comfortable with the interaction from the facilitator. Without any doubt I can say, Amy inspired me to be proactive and advance my career. I would definitely sharpen my presentation abilities as per the expectations after this training.

-Manager, India

It was wonderful you were able to share your expertise with us. Your attention to detail made this event a real success. Your willingness to offer your expertise, resources, and time to ISES is greatly appreciated.

-International Special Events Society

Amy helped me co-facilitate our executive board retreat which was pivotal in providing my smooth transition to CEO.

-CEO

Amy is fabulous! Insightful, an active listener, and solution-oriented. I always came away from our sessions energized and renewed. She helped clarify situations that before seemed overwhelming.

-VP Development